6. For HEERF I, students reported their expenses related to the disruption of normal school operations due to COVID-19, as requested by the School, which determined that all students were eligible and calculated awards based on estimated and actual expenses, and prioritized by need.

For HEERF II, the School determined the amount of grants students would receive based on need. The School prioritized those with the greatest need, based on Pell eligibility and Cost of Attendance, as well as level.

For HEERF III, the School marketed the availability of the funds to all students and establish the method by which it will determine how much each would receive. The first draw down of grant funds occurred within 90 days of the Grant Award Notification.

7. For HEERF I, students were directed that the Grants be used to offset increased or additional expenses, such as Internet costs, printer or computer purchases, and child care, related to the disruption of institutional operations due to COVID-19.

For HEERF II, students were advised of the availability of funds and were given the option of having the Emergency Financial Aid Grant applied to their account, lowering their Cost of Attendance (tuition, fees, and books, as well as transportation, room/board, supplies, and personal costs) or receiving a check. They were informed that if they chose the latter option, they must use the money only for emergency costs related to COVID-19 (such as health care or child care). All students were required to complete and sign an Authorization Form developed by the School stating their preference.

For HEERF III, students were advised of the availability of funds and were given the option of having the Emergency Financial Aid Grant applied to their account, lowering their Cost of Attendance (tuition, fees, and books, as well as transportation, room/board, supplies, and personal costs) or receiving a check.
